This we now say is morally wrong; if so now, it was always so. A supposed command of the Almighty does not make it right, and as real command would not make it morally right. The examples could be greatly extended covering things we now pronounce wrones. I have not a moment's difficulty with them. They do not have their origin in God; they spring atone from man and are the certain evidence of this harberties. from man ani are the certain evidence of his barbarine. They are to be con demand whenever and wiscrever found. A few years ago a man in New Ragland offered bis child in sacrifice under the plea 'God commandeth it.' The law set hat plea saide and said 'he is crasy.' Welghed in the balance of God's moral perfection, we cannot do less than set aside their plea. 'God commandeth it.' by the counter plea, it is your ignorance of God and your barbarism.

bigh rate of toils.

Thus hampered, we have repeatedly prayed for a deliverer, and at last, inst as we expected, that deliverer has come, in the shape, form and size of two of our most prominent and rising young men-Mr. Robert L. Baldwin and 1tr Cleon C.

On Saturday morning Mr Baldwin, wbom there is no one in this "seven acre city" better known or liked, published in the daily papers his proposition to se the Mason and Bracken Turnpike Road as Superintendent and owner of said
